Passage 1

When it comes to picking car colors, men and women
What's the most contentious color? Orange according to recent data from iSeeCars.com, a search engine that collects data from online car listings. Black cars were that most popular, regardless of gender – getting about 16% of inquiries last year. White was a close second with 15% and silver had 13%

As for gender, men and women were sharply divided on brighter colors. Orange wasn't popular for either gender but shoppers who were interested in the color were overwhelmingly male. Men liked brown paint jobs, but women preferred gold and silver much more often.

Surprisingly, red isn't as popular as it used to be. Red is typically one of the most popular colors outside the grey scale. Swapalease.com said in January that red cars were listed the most behind white, silver and black. Red, however, fell behind blue in iSeeCars.com's rankings, it still had a good lead in front of other colors – including green, gold, beige, brown and yellow.

66. The phrase that best completes the blank in the first sentence is

- | | |

1. white, red, silver
2. brown, white, orange
3. orange, red, black
4. blue, red, brown
5. blue, gold, black

69. Based on the surveys, car manufacturers might be able to boost their next year sales by

.....

1. making a lot more bright colored cars
2. specifically targeting customers of one gender
3. increasing spending on advertising
4. reducing production of popular colors to boost demand
5. increasing the manufacturing of cars of gray shades

70. How did the results of the more recent survey differ from a similar one done in January?

1. Gender was not an important factor.
2. Data was gathered from more than one source
3. One of the findings was unexpected
4. Blue was in the top of the preferred color list
5. The purpose of the recent survey changed

Passage 2

Two men were arrested by the police after they had sold a stolen painting to an art gallery in Guildford⁴. The owner of the gallery claimed that he had bought the painting in good faith, unaware that it had been stolen. The painting, a portrait of a young woman in a wide brimmed straw hat sitting under a tree, was owned by Marie Gilles, aged 84. She claimed that the painting had been given to one of her ancestors by the artist. She had owned it since 1950 when it was given to her an aunt as a wedding present. The painting had been stolen from her house two weeks previous to the arrest of the two men.
